Weekly presentations that are mind-expanding, informative and challenging

1/5/2022 Thomas Jefferson, America's Premier Wine Connoisseur– Sam Wai

Thomas Jefferson, the 3rd president of the US, was likely the most knowledgeable wine connoisseur of his time in America. Wine educator, Sam Wai, will examine Jefferson's life long passion in viticulture and fine wines in the context of the momentous events of his life..

1/12/2022 Candid Critters of the Catalinas– David Dean

The Santa Catalina Mountains on the north side of Tucson contain a diverse array of animal life. Join naturalist and camera trap videographer David Dean for an up close and personal (and often humorous) look into the lives of the fascinating animals who call these mountains home..

1/19/2022 Looking at the Masterpieces of the Met with Fresh Eyes: A Reawakening!– Susie Hintz

Join us for a virtual tour of the Metropolitan Museum of Art which will include traditional European masterpieces (E.g. El Greco, Monet, Picasso) as well as art from a variety of other cultures. The tour will encourage us to appreciate art from new perspectives and possibly stretch our concept of what is considered an art masterpiece. An enjoyable rebirth or reawakening in viewing art!

1/26/2022 The Day the Music Died: The Lives and Music of Buddy Holly, Ritchie Valens and the Big Bopper – Alan Kruse

Alan Kruse will take a look at the careers of three of the rock 'n' roll's pioneers culminating in the plane crash of February 3, 1959. Buddy's works and innovations inspired and influenced contemporary and later musicians, notably the Beatles, the Rolling Stones, and Bob Dylan and exerted a profound influence on popular music. Ritchie was the forefather of the Chicano rock movement. Both are in the Rock 'n' Roll Hall of Fame. And who can forget the Big Bopper's "You know what I like."
