10/9/2019 Old West; Wyatt Earp, Tombstone and related subjects

Scott will tell stories of interviews with Angie Dickinson, Lee Marvin's widow, a Masters champion, etc along with border sheriffs, bronc riders, beauty queens, and war heroes.

10/16/2019 Depression Era Photography

During the Great Depression, the Farm Service Administration sent photographers into the country to show the plight of people affected by the negative aspects of unemployment, bank closures and escaping the Dust Bowl. The photographers travelled to the Deep South, West Virginia, Arkansas, Oklahoma and California and other locations to tell the story of humanity during that difficult time. The photographs also showed pride, dignity and hope.

10/23/2019 Asian Sage: Confucius

The one name associated with Chinese culture is Confucius. Most know of him as a figure who combined religious inspiration and insight into the human condition. This presentation will look at Confucius' insights regarding political reform.

10/30/2019 Are Newspapers History?

A recent study showed about 1,800 U.S. newspapers have closed since 2004. Blame the internet, blame readers, blame advertisers. There's plenty to go around. But not everybody is wringing their hands over the challenges the industry is facing. Some journalists are working hard to address them and come back stronger. Dan Shearer is editor of the Green Valley News and Sahuarita Sun and also is editorial director for parent company Wick

Communications' 30 newspapers in 11 states. In that role he comes alongside editors to build stronger, more relevant newspapers.
